

Cali Rose

PRESS BIOGRAPHY

Entertainer, musician and comedienne, Cali Rose loves to sing and accompany herself on the piano and ukulele. She's thrilled that people actually pay her to do this!

Cali has been playing the piano since the ripe old age of six and according to family legend, began singing as soon as she could talk. As a young adult, she took a slight detour from music, earning a Bachelor of Arts degree in psychology and later working in an emergency room, while attending nursing school.

But she soon found her way back to performing and learned her craft in piano bars, so it's safe to say that very little shocks her these days. After completing a thirteen-year run on the Queen Mary, she now performs her one-woman shows in Southern California and around the country.

Cali is an award-winning songwriter with three popular albums. Her new CD, "Smile, Smile, Smile," is forty minutes of "feel good," like a day at the beach. "Are You Having Any Fun" features her sizzling ukulele playing and was nominated for Best Adult Contemporary Album in the Hawaii Music Awards. Tunes from her comedy CD "Cali Rose Get's Goofy" are played on radio worldwide. In addition, she writes a popular blog and teaches several ukulele classes.

In her shows, Cali deftly combines great vintage and popular songs with comedy, storytelling and audience participation. It's a crazy world. We need all the music and laughter we can get.
